INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE.

OCCUPATIONS

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF INDEX.

The occupational code has been arranged so that occupational descriptions given on Census Schedules can be coded strictly as given by the persons supplying the information. It is the aim of the Statistician to "record" as far as possible the information in the form in which it is given. In coding occupation, no attempt is to be made by the coder to use evidence contained elsewhere on the Census Schedule to interpret what the person "meant" to write.

The following rules are to be observed in coding occupation from the alphabetical index. These rules are to be followed rigidly and any cases in which the rules conflict or appear to lead to absurd results are to be referred to the section leader.

A. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

1. Occupational term. An occupational term is a noun which describes the nature of work which a person performs. Most occupational terms end in -er (miner), -ist (alterationist) or -man (fisherman). There are, however, a number of exceptions to this general rule such as nurse, matron, servant, steward, surgeon, shophand.

Note: The plural of an occupational term is not an occupational term but generally an industry description. For example "printers", "alterationists", "fishermen". If it is necessary that such words be used in coding, they are to be coded as shown in the index, or, if they do not appear in the index, are to be coded 800. See Instruction 11(3).

2. Participial form. Occupational terms are frequently written in the participial form ending in -ing, for example "mining", "nursing". In general words ending in -ing are to be treated as occupational terms except where they are used as an adjective - for example "mining engineer". In most caues only the noun form is printed in the index.

3. Key words. Occupational descriptions which appear in the index are of two types -

(1) Key words - commence with a small letter against the margin. Such words are the essential part of lengthy occupational descriptions. For example in the description "Agricultural machinery fitter", "fitter" is the key-word.

(2) Exact descriptions - commence with a capital letter and are inset four spaces.

4. One-word occupational descriptions. Where the occupational description contains only one word, code according to that word whether it appears in the index as an exact description or a key word.

5. Two or more word occupational descriptions

(1) Where one of the words used is

Acting	Father's	Mid-day
Casual	General	Mother's
Chief	Half-time	Part-time
Consulting	Head	Sub-
Daily-paid	Jobbing	Temporary
Dilutee	Junior	Unemployed

such word may be ignored and the description treated as though the word were not included.

(2) Where the description actually used on the schedule appears in the index as an exact description, code to the number shown in the index. If it does not appear as an exact description, look in the index and see if one of the words used appears as a key-word and code according to that word.

(3) Selection of key-word. If it is necessary to code according to a key-word, the following rules are to be followed in choosing which word of the actual description used is to be first sought in the index.

(a) If any word in the description is an occupational term look first for it.

For example in "Agricultural machinery fitter", "fitter" is the only occupational term.

(b) If two or more words in the description are occupational terms look first for the word first appearing.

For example in "Fitter and driller" or "Fitter, driller", look first for "fitter".

(c) If any word in the description is the participial form of an occupational term look first for it if there is no other occupational term in the description.

For example in "Agricultural machinery fitting" look first for "fitter" (fitting). But in "Fitting, driller", look first for "driller".

(d) If there is neither an occupational term nor a participial form in the description, look in the index for any other word used, selecting as far as possible the main word.

For example in "Employed on pig farm" look first for "farm".

If, however, the key-word selected is coded to 800, code in preference to any other word in the description which is indexed as a key-word.

For example in "Employed on pig farm", "employed" is in the index as a key-word coded to 800, and therefore "farm" (coded to 000) should be selected.

6. Main and Subsidiary Key-words. A number of main key-words are printed in the index without a code opposite but with subsidiary key-words listed below commencing with a small letter and inset two spaces.

If the description used on the schedule requires the use of such a main key-word, code in accordance with the subsidiary key-word (if any) which appears in the description used.

If none of the subsidiary key-words listed under the main key-word appears in the description, code to the number shown against "all other" at the foot of the list of subsidiary key-words.

If only a main key-word (or a main key-word and one of the words listed in 5(1) as to be ignored), appears in the description used, code to "so described" if "so described" appears in the list of subsidiary key words, and to "all other" if "so described" does not appear.

For example, in each of the descriptions "Petrol tank driver", "Stationary engine driver", "Driver" and "Casual driver", "driver" is the key-word to be selected since it is an occupational term. But reference to the index shows that "driver" is a main key-word. Listed under this main key-word is the subsidiary key-word, "petrol tank" (code 620) and "Petrol tank driver" should therefore be coded 620. On the other hand in "Stationary engine driver" neither "stationary" nor "engine" are listed as subsidiary key-words and hence the description should be coded to "all other" code 553. "Driver" and "Casual driver" should both be coded to "so described" code 552.

Note that under the main key-word "driver", "motor" is listed as a subsidiary key-word only where it appears as the first word of the description. This is necessary to distinguish such descriptions as "Motor delivery driver" (to be coded 620) and "Winch motor driver" (to be coded 553). The first description refers to a transport driver and the second to a stationary engine driver.

7. Key word followed by (n.e.i.) in the index. If a key word appears in the index followed by (n.e.i.), do not use for coding unless neither the description as a whole appears in the index as an exact description nor any other word in it appears as a key-word which is coded to some code other than 800.

8. (So described). Where a description in the index is followed by the words (so described), or the words "so described" appear in a list of subsidiary key-words, code to that number only descriptions used in the schedule which contain only that word or words (or that word or words together with one of the words listed in 5(1) as to be ignored). See also Inst. 6 for "so described" listed under a main key-word.

9. Order of words. Exact descriptions generally appear in the index in the natural order but if the order shown on the schedule does not appear in the index look for the words in different order.

For example if the description "Shearer, sheep" appears in the schedule look under "Sheep shearer".

10. Not gainfully occupied grades of occupation. In all cases where grade of occupation shown in answer to question 13(i) on the schedule is

C.	900	M.	940	P.	930
H.D.	920	N.A.	990	S.	910
I.	950

code to the number shown against each irrespective of what may be written in answer to the occupation question.

11. Descriptions not in index. If the occupational description used in the schedule does not appear in the index and no word in it appears as a key-word in the index, refer to the section leader unless

(1) the description consists only of the name of a product such as "Leather", "Boots", "Clothing", "Wool";

(2) the description consists of the name of a firm such as "B.H. Pty.", "Australian Glass Manufacturers", "Smith and Jones Pty. Ltd."; or

(3) the description contains the plural of an occupational term (Inst. 1).

In each of these cases the description should be coded 800.

Do not attempt to infer occupation from the answer to the industry question or any other part of the schedule.

B. SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS.

The following special instructions are to be applied irrespective of the general instructions given above. These instructions relate to the following words which should be memorized and used in coding only in accordance with the special instructions.

aid	help	monitress
apprentice	helper	official
assistant	holder-up	offsider
builder	journeyman	overseer
business	journeywoman	proprietor
civil servant	labourer	proprietress
civil service	maker	public servant
domestic	manager	public service
employer	manageress	striker
fireman	managing	superintendent
forelady	manufacturer	supervising foreman	mate	supervision
forewoman	monitor	supervisor

S.I. 1. The following are to be used as key-words in two or more word occupational descriptions only if the balance of the description cannot be coded to some number other than 800.

apprentice	800	journeyman	800	public servant	322
civil servant	322	journeywoman	800	public service	322
civil service	322	manager	210	superintendent	500
domestic	406	manageress	210	supervising	500
forelady	500	managing	210	supervision	500
foreman	500	official	320	supervisor	500
forewoman	500	overseer	500

If it is necessary to use them as key-words or if the description used consists of one of these words solely, the code to be used is shown beside each.

S.I. 2. Descriptions in which it is necessary to use one of the words

business	manufacturer	proprietress
employer	proprietor

as a key-word are to be coded to 200 if the grade of occupation is E or O. Otherwise code to 800.

S.I. 3. Descriptions using the following words

aid	holder-up	offsider
help	labourer	striker
helper	mate

are to be coded according to the general rules unless the word appears on the schedule following the possessive case of an occupational term. For example "builder's labourer", "blacksmith's striker", "shearer's holder-up".

(a) If the exact words (excluding any listed under 5(1) as to be ignored) appear in the index, code to the number shown in the index.

(b) If the occupational term which these words follow is blacksmith	600	engineer	606	painter	608

boilermaker	601	fitter	605	plasterer	608
bricklayer	608	glazier	608	plumber	608
builder	608	ironworker	604	steelworker	604
carpenter	608	moulder	602	welder	603
electrician	607

the code to be used is shown beside each.

(c) If the occupational term (other than those listed under (b)) which these words follow is itself coded to a number commencing with 5 or 6, the whole description is to be coded to 609.

(d) In all other cases code to the number shown in the index for the occupational term which these words follow.

S.I. 4. Descriptions using the word

assistant are to be coded as follows -

(a) If the exact words (excluding any listed under 5(1) as to be ignored) appear in the index, code to the number shown in the index.

(b) If "assistant" follows the possessive case of an occupational term code as in S.I. 3.

(c) If only the one word "assistant" (or "assistant" and one of the words listed in 5(1) as to be ignored) appears in the description used, code to 800.

(d) In all other cases the word "assistant" may be ignored and the description treated as though the word were not included.

S.I. 5. Descriptions using the words

builder 681 maker 680

either as a separate word or as the last part of one word (for example "Boat builder", "Boatbuilder") are to be coded to the number shown above unless indexed elsewhere. If only the one word "Builder" or "Maker" appears, code to 200 if the grade of occupation is E or O. For other grades of occupation code to the numbers shown above.

S.I. 6. Descriptions using the word

fireman

are to be coded to 450 in all cases where the industry code is 734. In other cases code as shown in the index.

S.I. 7. Descriptions using the words

monitor monitress are to be coded to 100 in all cases where the industry code is 771. In other cases code to 304.

INDEX OF INDUSTRIES

WITH

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE.

I N T R O D U C T I O N.

In order to obtain accurate statistical analyses of the economic and social structure of the community, the occupied population must be classified in at least two ways, according to two distinct concepts -

(i) The industry, trade or organized service of which each person forms a unit;
(ii) The individual occupation or function of the person within the industry through which his services are rendered.

The distinction between the terms industry and occupation is not always sufficiently appreciated, and frequently the terms are used as if they were synonymous. In view of the importance of a clear understanding of these terms in their relation to the classification of the population in its working capacity, it is desirable to define the sense in which they are used for statistical purposes -

Industry is defined as any single branch of productive activity, trade or service. It is concerned with the activities of persons, firms or businesses considered as a group producing the same commodity, performing the same process or providing the same service. All persons engaged in any such sphere of economic activity are classified industrially as belonging to the particular branch in question irrespective of their personal occupation within the industry. Examples : Building, Coke Manufacture, Gold Mining, Poultry-raising, Medicine.

Occupation is defined as the nature of the work which a person performs, and implies personal performance. It may be based on the material treated, the process carried out or the type of service rendered by an individual worker. Examples : Carpenter, Steward, Stoker, Moulder, Surgeon.

The distinction between the two concepts can further be sharpened by keeping in mind certain important objects in classifying the occupied population -

(i) One of the objects of classification by industries is to show the absolute and relative importance of the various branches of industry. For that purpose a person's industrial classification is determined by reference to the business, trade, profession or service in which, or for the purposes of which, his occupation is followed. It is clear that consideration of the individual's personal occupation has no direct bearing on the classification by industries: in certain circumstances, nevertheless, knowledge of a person's occupation may help to define the industry in which he is engaged.
(ii) The main object of classification by occupation is to secure a clearly defined appreciation of the particular functions which a person performs. For that purpose the occupational classification of the person is determined by reference either to the processes carried out, the nature of the personal qualifications or skill required, or, in the case of occupations not concerned with the making of material products, the type of service rendered. The nature of the branch of productive activity in which he is engaged, and its organization into groups of firms and businesses, has no direct bearing on the occupational classification.

INDUSTRY

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF INDEX.

The industry code has been arranged so that, in general, industry descriptions given on Census Schedules can be coded strictly as given by the person supplying the information. In some cases, however, it will be necessary to define industry more closely by using evidence contained elsewhere on the Census Schedule. Such evidence should only be used after reference to the section leader.

A. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. Exact descriptions. If the description used on the Schedule does not appear in the index refer to the section leader except -

(a) if the last word of a description is one of making	manufacturing

manufacture	factory

and a description in the index uses any other of these words it may be coded to the number shown against that description in the index.

For example code "Cheese manufacture" and "Cheese factory" to "Cheese making" code.

(b) if the last word of a description is repairs repairing mending such word may be read as "making"

But

Boot and shoe repairing	263
Cycle repairing	699
Motor repairs	551

are to be coded to the number shown against each.

(c) if the last word of a description is maintenance

such word may be read as "making", "manufacturing" or "construction".

For example code "Harbour maintenance" to "Harbour construction" code.

(d) if the words used in the description appear in the index in a different order, code to the number shown against that description.

For example, if the description "Making butter" appears in the schedule look under "Butter making".

(e) if the description used on the schedule contains two or more types of industry look in the index for the description first appearing.

For example, if the description "Wool growing and cartage service" appears in the schedule code to "Wool growing".

But if two or more types of agriculture, grazing or dairying appear in the schedule, code to 021 unless two or more types of grazing only appear, in which case code to 040.

For example "Banana and vegetable growing", "Wheat and pig farming", "Wheat growing and grazing" are to be coded 021. But "Cattle and sheep grazing" is to be coded 040.

2. Not gainfully occupied grades of occupation. In all cases where grade of occupation shown on question 13(i) on the schedule is code to 900 irrespective of what may be written in answer to the industry question.

H.D.	N.A.	S

3. "(Grade E or O)" and "(not Grade E or O)". Descriptions in the index followed by (Grade E or O) are to be coded to the number shown only if grade of occupation is E or O.

Descriptions in the index followed by (not Grade E or O) are to be coded to the number shown only if grade of occupations is W, U, U.L. or H.

In all other cases refer to section leader.

B. SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS

(See instructions) Descriptions in the index followed by (see instructions) are to be coded as follows. In each case reference must be made to the answer to the occupation question, and, in any case of doubt as to whether an occupation is of the type described, refer to the section leader.
